

“Richard is currently working with a new entrant into the Insurance market, building up a new Insurance Services, Managing Agency and Insurance run-off business that is build on a new technology capability.

Prior to this, Richard spend over 20 years with an international Management Consultancy. As a Partner in the business, Richard led the Private Equity consulting business where, over the last few years, increasing attention as been put on changing working practices, accelerated by the COVID 19 pandemic, but being driven beyond this by changing technologies and changing views on how to access and organise talent.”